

ONE-DAY WORKSHOP ON CREATIVE WRITING: A REPORT

On March 16th, 2024, the Department of English hosted a Creative Writing Workshop for the English Honours students. The session was led by Ms. Naphirisa Kordor Tariang, a prolific young author with a diverse portfolio, including four poetry collections, two novels, a translated work, and a short story collection.

The primary aim of the workshop is to spark participants' imagination and encourage them to explore their creative potential and help them in building confidence and finding one's unique voice. This can be achieved through various exercises that stimulate thinking outside the box which includes understanding narrative structures, improving vocabulary, and, understanding the deeper meanings behind words and structures, ultimately guiding participants on their journey to becoming better writers.

The workshop proved to be both educational and inspiring. It captivated the students, and students immersed themselves in the rich tapestry of words. Many participants found their voices and were inspired to embark on their own creative and critical writing journeys.
